A significant construction milestone was achieved involving the toll road along the South Bay Expressway. The first segment of the Otay River Bridge was erected, spanning three quarters of a mile and reaching heights of 18 stories. The segment weighs 80 tons with approximately 7,000 pounds of reinforcing steel. The road will run from State Route 54 in Spring Valley to SR 905 near the Otay Mesa International Border Crossing.

The South Bay Expressway, which is scheduled to open later this year, had its first 644 segments implemented to complete the four-lane bridge. This bridge is expected to provide commuters with a quick and reliable connection to and from Otay Mesa and the international border. The public can view the progress of the construction via a time-lapsed Webcam on the South Bay Expressway Web site at southbayexpressway.com.
